SUPPORT YOUR NEWSPAPER

The editor is away this week, but the paper has been published just the same. There is no trouble in getting out a paper of this kind because it is not hard to set type for the news columns. The hard part is making up the advertisements and there isn't any of them to worry us with this week. But there should be. The people of Carbon and district want a newspaper, but they do not want to support it. A town is judged by the newspaper that is published in it, and a newspaper is a community affair, not the business of one individual.

There is exactly $12.25 worth of advertising in this issue, and this will not pay our office expenses for the week, let alone the work that has been taken to produce the finished product. Can we carry on this way very long? No, and you can't expect us to. We need your support. You can give it to us by helping us in our advertising columns, by paying for your paper when your subscription is due and by giving us your job printing to do instead of sending it away to be done and then think you are getting a better job, when you haven't even given us a trial. And at the same time you are sending money out of town when you yourself are kicking like the very devil because everyone else is sending their cash to Ratons or Simpsons instead of spending it with you. And can the merchants blame the people when they set a bad example for them to follow.

Wife: I saw the doctor today

Husband: What did he do?

Wife: Made me pay in advance.

The High Cost of Weeds

Actual evidence of the loss in value of weed-infested farm land is shown in an extract from the report of an inspector valuing a certain farm for loaning purposes. In his report, this inspector says: "It is badly infested with sow thistle—as are all the farms in the neighborhood. I have valued $1,000 less than I would if clean of this weed."

This $1,000 represented 12 per cent of the value of the farm. Many inspectors would have discounted the value to an even greater extent.

The question naturally suggests itself: What, Mr. Farmer, is your weed crop costing you?

You may not be contemplating a sale of the land, nor considering the placing of a loan on it. For the time being the actual value of the land may be of no particular interest to you, except from a taxation standpoint. Nevertheless, the question is none the less pertinent: What is your weed crop costing you?

If you are using dirty seed, it is costing you something for seedling it. Let it be assumed that the weeds are already there and seed themselves and that the cost of seedling can be eliminated. But you have to cut the weeds along with the grain; that costs something. You have to thresh the weed seeds along with the grain; that costs something more. You haul many pounds of weed seeds along with the grain to the elevator; more cost. You pay elevator charges on the total weight; another cost. You pay freight on the weed seeds as well as on the grain; extra cost. Finally, you pay to have the weed seeds cleaned from the grain; added cost. These are direct outlays. Have you ever taken time to figure up these costs? Their total would surprise you. And, by the way, having borne all these costs, what sum of money did you realize for the weeds thus raised and marketed by you?

But, apart from these direct costs, what was the total of the indirect cost of your annual weed crop? How much life and nutriment did these weeds extract from your land? How much moisture did they consume which would have given additional strength to your grain? How many extra bushels of wheat or oats or other grain per acre would you have realized from your land if it had been clean of weeds, and you had been producing grain only. Instead of an unmarketable mixture of grain and weed seeds?

But, you argue, there is another side to the weed account in your farm ledger. It costs something to get rid of weeds and to keep land free of them. Perfectly true. And if you have permitted your land to become badly infested, the initial cost of weed eradication will be heavy. In fact, you may have hastily concluded that it is cheaper to go on raising weeds and grain together than to make a fight against the weeds. It is well to remember, however, that year by year the weeds will become more numerous and the grain smaller and smaller.

Then, too, the day may come when you will want to sell the farm, and you will discover that a weed-infested farm invites few buyers and a low price. Furthermore, it is safe to predict that if you continue to grow weeds, and thereby automatically reduce your grain yield, the time is coming when you will be forced to apply to a Company for a loan. Then Mr. Inspector will report that he values your land at from 10 to 20 per cent. less than he otherwise would if it had been free of weeds.

The most expensive and the least remunerative crop any farmer can raise is a crop of weeds, yet thousands of Western farmers are engaged in this losing business. Why? Because they have never taken the time to reckon up the cost, or because of shiftlessness, or downright laziness. Possibly ignorance is the cause, the farmer failing to realize that allowing weeds to grow and flourish on his land means just as much work for himself in the long run as is involved in fighting them, while the cost of growing weeds is many times greater than the cost of eradicating them.

And if the cost and loss to the individual farmer is so great, it is, in the aggregate, to the municipality, the province, and the Dominion so enormous as to stagger the imagination.

Fight weeds as you would fight fire. Fight even harder, because you can insure properly against fire, but not against weeds. The only insurance against weeds must be provided by your own labor. It will prove one of the best paying of all your farm efforts.

Want Canadian Birds For Field Museum

Expedition From Chicago Seeks Extensive Exhibit in B.C.

British Columbia will probably have an extensive exhibit of her northern bird life in the Field Museum in Chicago as the result of the work of John Borden Field Museum Alaska Arctic expedition which is working in northern waters this summer. Ashley Hino, a Canadian, is one of the ornithologists with the party. The work is being carried out under the direction of Mr. Borden in a private yacht built especially for the purpose.

"We intend to spend some time in northern British Columbia waters, chance along the coast to Alaska and are particularly interested in obtaining specimens of Canadian birds and animals to complete our North American collections."

Italian Flier Remembered

A monument to the fame of Francesco de Pinedo, Italian four continent flier, has been raised by aeroplane pilots at Miller Flying Field, Staten Island, in the form of the "Hotel de Pinedo," built from the packing case in which the Santa Maria II. was shipped to the United States. The "hotel" is 10 feet by 20 feet, is covered with the tar paper that lined it on its ocean voyage, and is fitted up with beds for 10 pilots.

Canada stands second in the number of telephones in use and in the production of automobiles and lumber, third in gold and silver production, seventh in steel production, and fourth in that of coal.

England Is Founding New Naval Museum

Valuable Exhibits Have Been Handed Over By Admiralty

A National Naval and Nautical Museum, the first of its kind in England, is to be founded at Queen's House, Greenwich.

A magnificent start has been given to the new venture by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, who will hand over the entire contents of the Royal Naval Museum, including:

The Chatham chest, dating back to the Armada.

Draughtsman's astrolabe.

Compass and dipping needle of Captain Cook.

The Franklin relics.

Model of the Battle of Trafalgar.

Uniform of Sir Charles Napier.

West collection of Nelson relics.

Admiralty scale models of British battleships from 1679 to 1870.

Nelson relics and other treasures now in the Painted Hall.

There will also be a collection of plans of ships built for the navy from the middle of the XVII century, a series unequalled in any other country, and models will illustrate the progress of naval construction from the Devastation to the Dreadnought.

THE NURSING MOTHER

Often Finds Herself Weak and Feeling Worn-Out

The nursing mother more than any other woman needs rich blood and plenty of it. The demands upon her health are many and severe. Household duties and the care of her children exact heavy toll, while hurried meals, broken rest and indoor living tend to weaken her. No wonder she is often indisposed through weakness, headaches, backaches and nervousness. In this condition the blood will always be found weak and watery, and relief will come only through enriching the blood. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is the best blood-making tonic known. Through their use many weak, ailing wives and mothers have found new health and strength. As an example of this Mrs. Sarah Cortez, Ellensburg, N.B., says: "While nursing my baby I became run down, very weak and nervous. My head ached all the time and I was not able to do my work. I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began using them, and what a blessing they proved. Before I had used a half dozen boxes I felt like a new person, and by their continued use for a while I was entirely restored to my former health and strength. I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to everyone suffering as I did."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

New Regulation Passed

Grain Owners May Now Appeal on Condition and Grade

A new regulation has been passed by the Board of Grain Commissioners giving the owners of grain the right to appeal on questions of condition as well as to grade of their grain.

The regulation comes into effect on August 1 and is being put into force experimentally to demonstrate whether it is beneficial or otherwise to the grower of grain. The regulation applies to Fort William, Port Arthur, Winnipeg, Edmonton and Vancouver and does not govern cargo shipments.

Hitherto the only appeal possible was against the grade given.

Increases Elevator Capacity

If construction of the new Alberta Wheat Pool elevator is started with in a month or so, as expected, it will be ready to begin operations in December. It will raise Vancouver's elevator capacity to 10,200,000 bushels. Six years ago there was only one elevator at the port with 1,250,000 bushel capacity.

Immigrants Pouring In

Population Being Increased at Rate of One Thousand a Day

Immigration to Canada in the month of May this year totalled 23,941, according to a statement issued by the department of immigration and colonization. This is an increase of 29 per cent. over May, 1926, when the total immigration to Canada was 18,620; and 79 per cent. over May, 1925, when the total immigration to Canada for that month was 13,338.

Last May there were 8,408 British came to Canada; 2,503 from the United States and 13,030 from other countries, as compared with 7,986 British; 2,063 from the United States and 851 from other countries in May, 1926.

Immigration for April and May of this year totalled 59,382 or almost 1,000 persons per day for the two months.

In May of this year 5,561 Canadians who had gone to the United States intending to remain there permanently returned to Canada declaring their intention of staying in the Dominion. These are not included in the immigration figures.

Merger of Shingle Makers

Amalgamation of the Shingle Makers of British Columbia

One of the largest business mergers that has taken place in British Columbia in recent years is that of the amalgamation of the shingle manufacturers of the province. At least 95 per cent. of the shingle manufacturers of British Columbia are now included in the recently formed organization, known as the Consolidated Shingle Mills of British Columbia, Limited.

Each shingle company is interested to the extent of the value of its plant.

The new organization will have supervision over manufacturing and selling.

The amalgamation is along the lines of similar movements in the lumber trade in the United States, the aim of which is to stabilize trade conditions.

Accorded Full Military Honors

A funeral with full military honors was accorded to J. T. Eardley of Lore, Man., one of the three victims of the airplane disaster near Millbrook, Manitoba. The bodies of F. J. Wrong and Wm. C. Weaver were forwarded respectively to Ottawa and Melfort, Sask., for burial.

Canada won the Mackinac challenge cup by nineteen points from teams representing England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales and other parts of the Empire. Canada thus regained the trophy which she lost to Scotland last year by 14 points.

Testing Ability To Go Without Sleeping

Aviators at Camp Borden Better Record of Lindbergh

Canadian Air Force aviators at Camp Borden have been undergoing tests to determine their ability to go without sleep. It is understood that several bettered the record of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, when he remained awake on his transatlantic flight, and one flier, Lieut. Dave Harding, former Queen's and Camp Borden rugby player, remained awake and actively on duty for more than 52 hours. Then, it is said, he sat down to read a magazine and, forgetting the contest, dozed off in mid-afternoon.

A departure from the long tradition of serving fine wines at Guildhall banquets and receptions to Great Britain's guests occurred at the luncheon to King Fund. The Egyptian monarch expressed a wish to be served no alcoholic drink, since this was contrary to the ordinance of Mohammed.

Mothers Should Use

When The Babies Are Cutting Teeth

During the baby's teething time, in the hot summer months, the bowels become loose and diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and other bowel complaints manifest themselves; the gums become swollen, cankers form in the mouth, and in many cases the child wastes to a shadow, and very often the termination is fatal.

This is the time when the mother should use "Dr. Fowler's," and, perhaps, save the baby's life.

"It's a pity they couldn't eat at home," he grumbled. "It's a wonder they go home to sleep. I fully expect to find a bunch of them here some morning. The new man is bug-house on making the church serve the young people. If he had to clean up—and this new battleship linoleum shows every mark—he might feel different. There's no respect for the sacred edifice any more. I can't get used to rioting and mirth in God's house, an the cleanin' up after it is fearful; and my word! this swimmin' pool that he's goin' to put in is a wicked thing to me. The house of God is for the cleansin' of hearts. 'Cleanse your hearts and not your garments,' says Job. 'Whited sepulchres, makin' clean the outside of the cup and platter while the inside is full of ravenous wolves' ain't it the Lord's truth? But no one listens to me now—my ways is out of date. It's all youth, youth, and I wouldn't mind so much if he brought in only our own young people. I buried their fathers and mothers, some of them, and christened them, but this man brings in every tag and he can find odds and ends—odds and ends—what does he care. This church had a name before he came. More cars and better cars stopped at our curb than at any other church in town. What now? Baby carriages, mother's meetings, bean feeds, I find broken garters, tissue paper, table napkins rolled into wads, sandals, comforts, babies bottles. 'Servin' the neighborhood,' he says. It's grand to be a sinner these days, there's so much done for them—and even at that he don't believe in hell! I asked him, and what did he say? Says he, 'I wouldn't like to take the responsibility of hell, Mr. Sims, he says. "Take away hell from our religion," says I, 'and where are we?' says I, and he went out laughin' like an overgrown schoolboy—laughin' because he could not answer me.

Religion ain't what it used to be. There's no way of warnin' the wicked now. Where's the good old hymns we used to sing—'We'll hear the wicked wailin', wailin' wailin', we'll hear the wicked wailin' in that great day.' That was a grand hymn to bring conviction to a stony heart and to such as be of a perverse countenance. Now it's all 'Love of God, Love of God, Jesus the Friend.' Soft I call it, and too easy.

These young ones that come here—tell me they are Christians? 'Did you ever repent?' I says. 'Lots of times,' says they. Is that religion?

Well, here they come, ramplin' down the stairs. 'The Merry Maids,' that's a silly name for a religious society. Where's the Christian Endeavor, the Epworth League, the King's Daughters?

'Good evening, Mr. Sims,' cried the girls, swarming around the old man. 'You have fixed the seats for us, haven't you? You're a good old scout.'

Someone began to sing:

"How do you do, Mr. Sims,

How do you do?

Is here anything that we can do for you?"

"Shut up girls," said Lucy Powers, severely. "I want to talk seriously to Mr. Sims. He asked me the other day if I ever repented, and I want to tell him I've done nothing else all week. I've been kept in every recess for not getting my essay done in time, and I've had to watch the other girls playing while I sat inside struggling with an essay on 'Concentration' and the teacher was nasty to me all the time, and I've had such a bad time, I nearly lost my religion. Tonight I am going to ask for the prayers of the congregation for the teacher—she's so mean—that she'll either change or die or something. I'll leave that to the Lord."

Mildred Masters had a problem, too. "Say, Mr. Sims, isn't it fierce when no one seems to understand you? You know I resolved to try to smile this week and see if miles and miles of smiles would grow from mine, and when I smiled at teacher when she was scolding me she said to me right before everyone, 'Take that silly grin off your face.' Now what is a poor girl to do? Isn't life the bunk, anyway? What would you have said to her, Mr. Sims? They'll do the rest now, don't you bother; the House Committee has to get the meal ready, you just advise me."

Mr. Sims laid down his broom and considered the troubled soul before him, whose red cheeks and sparkling eyes plainly belied the sad tone of her voice. The rest of the girls swarmed into the kitchen.

Miss Rodgers, the teacher of "Canadian Girls in Training," drank deeply from the Blue and Gold Book in her hours of need, for that wonderful book is a deep well, and no one need draw up an empty bucket who dips into it. It knows all about work among girls, and it can tell you exactly how to go about each meeting. Miss Rodgers, who had undertaken to lead this group of girls, would have perished long before if she had not had the Blue and Gold Book. It said that the meeting for this month would be social in its character, and the "activity" would be the entertainment of foreign girls. The small print said, "There are probably some girls of foreign birth in your neighborhood. Invite them to a supper meeting. Find out if they can sing or recite. Even if it is in a language unknown to you it will make them feel that they belong if they contribute to your program." (Do you see now how deep the Blue and Gold Book is?)

Miss Rodgers explained the project to her "Merry Maids." Consternation sat on their young faces. They had been able to follow the Blue and Gold Book on the "Carlo" meeting, "Stories about Hyenas" meeting, "Cooking out of doors" meeting, "Irish Stories" meeting, but where could they get enough foreign girls to go around? There were fifteen girls in the group. If they did get fifteen girls how could they all get time to do a piece? And it wouldn't do to leave any out. Maybe some wouldn't like some of the others, and with so many nations represented it might make trouble, even fighting!

Lucy Powers at this cried out, "Oh, gee, wouldn't that be fun?" She was of Hibernian extraction.

Bonnie Moss was afraid. "The foreigners quarrel so among themselves," she said "and they're so fierce. Our washerwoman's sister killed her man at Gimil, and when she was in jail at Stoney Mountain my mother went to see her and asked her if she wasn't sorry, and she said she was, and mother thought that was a good sign, and maybe she was going to repent and find pardon but she went right on and said she was sorry she had not killed him long ago. Mother did not know what to say. But Mrs. Karaski said she believed in God all right, if that's what mother wanted to know. 'God was alright, you bet,' she said, and she was thankful, too. God had been good to her and let her find the axe just when she was getting the worst of it. Mother came home all shaken up."

Hattie Butterfield had a bright idea. "Let's begin with one foreign girl—real foreign, I mean just out from some foreign country—and I know one. Miss Abbie Moore has a Finn girl, and she smiles at me every time I pass, and she does her hair just like we do now, and she has white shoes and all, and she comes to church, and you wouldn't know it on her." Hattie did not specify just what it was that Hattie was able to conceal.

Miss Rodgers intervened. "Remember girls," she said, "foreign girls are just like us. They feel, see, are hurt or pleased, just like us. It just happened they were born in an other country."

"I guess everyone would want to be born British if they could," said Hattie complacently.

Miss Rodgers shook her head. "Not a bit of it, Hattie; everyone likes her own country best. But we are American, and I like my own country best. But we are making a new country here in Canada, and we will love it best of all because we are making it. We are making paths and laying foundations, and that is what makes life here so interesting. Now this Finn girl who lives with Miss Abbie Moore, she is a Canadian from choice. She has come to us. Most of you were born here and had no choice in the matter at all. So let us consider her a true Canadian by her own choice. I think we will just have this one girl, and we'll make it her party."

"Gee, Miss Rodgers," said Lucy, "that will be a rich dish for her—a party all for herself! Mother says you can spoil these foreign girls easy."

"Not many people are spoiled by being made happy," said Miss Rodgers gravely, "and an orphan girl, all alone, working for her living, is not likely to be petted overmuch. Well what do you say, girls?"

Easy Ways To Drown

Wide Choice Given People Who Lack Common Sense

The Grand Rapids Press suggests several ways in which bathers with more enthusiasm than good sense, can end their lives:

Among this summer's earliest lessons in easy ways to die by drowning are the following, culled from one Sunday's report of nine such tragedies on Michigan lakes:

Rocking the boat, two deaths.

Using a leaking boat, two deaths.

Using unknown beach and stepping into hole, two deaths.

Swimming despite indigestion, one death.

Swimming across the lake alone, one death.

Riding motorboat awells in canoe, one death.

Life might not be quite so pleasant without occasional acts of needless daring and foolishness. But it would be a great deal more difficult for the Grim Reaper to do his harvesting.

Truth has a value today it has never had before.

Conflict Over Skirt Lengths

Movement Is On In Europe To Introduce Longer Skirts

"While America has accepted with complaisance current fashions in women's clothes both on the street and on the beaches, there seems to be some agitation in Europe as to the moral significance of skirt lengths and bathing suits," reads an editorial in The Outlook.

"Recently one faction of the Queen Louise Association in Germany declared that short skirts were a sign of moral degeneracy and began a campaign for long skirts." The Outlook editorial continues. "For some reason, it developed into a rural versus urban conflict, and the women of Berlin banded together in defense of prevailing fashions. On another front we find Italian women protesting against current brevities and carrying their campaign to an insistence upon skirts below the shoe tops for all Italian girls. In some districts the movement for dress reform has met with considerable success. In Bologna children with short skirts are barred from the schools, while throughout Italy stricter regulations are in force for modesty on the beaches.

"But it is in Turkey that the most drastic movement is under way. Numbers of Moslem women are supporting a campaign for a uniform dress for all women. Extravagance and feminine jealousy are the evils this movement fights, rather than moral degeneracy, and its program is for the adoption of some universal costume, neat but not gaudy. Perhaps this would solve many problems, but we somehow doubt the success of the movement. Women will dress pretty much as they desire despite all attempts at reform or standardization, and we may safely leave even skirt lengths and bathing suits to their own sense of propriety."

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Enjoying the King's Garden

Public Admitted to Grounds at Sandringham Two Days a Week

The King's garden at Sandringham came first in the list of gardens in England and Wales opened to the public under the June scheme. Its share in that scheme, however, is much larger than this would imply. Most of the gardens may be seen on only one day, whereas admission to Sandringham is permitted during the absence of the court, on every Wednesday and Thursday, from May 1 to September 30, the total of the sixpences paid at the gate being equally divided, by the King's command, between Queen Alexandra Memorial fund and local charities. Last year local charities benefited to the extent of between £600 and £700 from the fees.

Sandringham leaves its visitors happily to themselves with a large liberty. The parties which take their simple luncheon sitting on the grass among the flowers may, very evidently, be trusted to leave no litter. A better expression of the prevalent spirit could hardly be wished than the admonition addressed by a woman to her small son: "Yes, you can smell the flowers, but not too hard."

Magistrate: "Certainly; six months."

From $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 is paid out yearly for papers that used to be destroyed before Joseph Gatti, a Park Row, New York, newsboy, began collecting them and selling them to mills that make wrappers and cartons.

Firestone DEALERS

ARE PIONEERS IN BALLOON TIRE SERVICE

Another Reason Why They Serve
Motorists Better and Save Them Money

The advent of the Balloon Tire required an expansion in repair methods. To meet this situation Repair Schools were opened at the Firestone factories where the Firestone dealers and their repair men have been instructed in the care of tires and the use of the specially designed Firestone Balloon Tire equipment.

In each territory throughout the country Dealer Educational Meetings have been held. These have been attended by most of the Firestone Service Dealers who have obtained the latest information regarding tire construction, care and repair methods.

Firestone Dealers are kept up-to-date on tire development and service—continually progressing and improving their ability to serve you better and save you money. See the nearest Firestone Dealer to-day and let him handle your tire requirements.

The Highest culture is to speak no ill;
The best reformer is the man whose eyes
Are quick to see all beauty and all worth,
And by his own discreet, well ordered life,
Alone reprove the erring.

Like alone acts upon like. Therefore, do not amend by reasoning, but by example; approach feeling by feeling; do not hope to excite love except by love. Be what you wish others to become. Let yourself and not your words preach.

Canadians Go Abroad

Estimated That Nearly 25,000 Canadians Touring Europe This Year

Frequent surveys are being made of the value of the American tourist trade to Canada but there are no estimates of the value of the Canadian trade to Europe.

This year the passport branch of the Department of External Affairs has issued over 18,000 new passports and renewed 1,800 passports previously issued. It is conservatively estimated that nearly 25,000 Canadians are abroad this year, mostly in Europe.

Relieves Asthma at Once. If you could read the thousands of unsolicited letters received by the makers from grateful users you, too, would realize the remarkable powers of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. All cases, incipient and chronic, are benefited by this great family remedy. Why suffer or experiment with worthless preparations when the genuine Kellogg's can be purchased everywhere.

WOMAN COULD HARDLY WALK

Mrs. Horn Tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health

Hamilton, Ont.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and would not be without it now. I had a female trouble so badly I could hardly walk and I was all run-down and could hardly get around to do my housework. I would be in bed three or four days at a time. I was told by a friend to try your Vegetable Compound. I did, and by the time I took two bottles I was beginning to get around again. I took ten bottles in all, and now I am all right again and doing my own work. I have six grown-ups to work for, so I have plenty to do. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and I think it is good. But I owe my health to the Vegetable Compound, and I think if more of it was used women would be better off. I would not be without it if it cost much more."

Mrs. NELLIE JAMESON, 805 East Canon Street, Hamilton, Ontario.

Do you feel broken down, nervous and weak sometimes? Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is excellent to take at such a time. It always helps, and if taken regularly and persistently, will relieve this condition.

LOCAL FIRES

The vacant icehouse behind the Farmers' Exchange caught fire on Tues., Aug. 2 nd. The fire started from some unknown reason, and was put out by the Firemen.
No damage was done for there was nothing of any value in the old building.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. F.
Bessant caught fire on Saturday last, the fire had had too good a start when the fire fighters got there. Owing to the absence of the engineer slow work was made in starting the engine and laying the hose. The house was almost a total loss and no furniture was saved although a little clothing was taken from the house after the fire was put out. We see now that the Village of Carbon needs trained men for fire fighters and may those men who stand around and watch lend a hand when necessary, instead of all being formans.

COMPARE the Chevrolet of seven years ago with the Chevrolet of today and realize how radically Chevrolet has revised all conceptions of motor car value.

In 1920, the Chevrolet illustrated here represented the highest standards of quality and value . . . at a price of $1795 (f.o.b. Oshawa) . . . over a thousand dollars more than you pay today for a Chevrolet that possesses style, luxury and refinement unthought-of in any car a few years ago.

In following its fundamental policy of constant improvement, Chevrolet has built up a production volume which places it first among all cars in the world. And Chevrolet has shared the savings of volume purchasing and production, with the public by reducing the prices of Chevrolet cars.

So, today, you get a Chevrolet with amazing QUALITY in its every detail at a fraction of the cost of a similar model Chevrolet of seven years ago.
